COOKED LUNCH

VS

HOT LUNCH

This is the perception of cooked lunch

- Labor and staff do not cost much money
- Cost and time away from work while grocery shopping for food, paper products and supplies
- Possible liability if something happened to staff away from work on work time
- Prepping time, clean up with dishes and getting ready for tomorrow's menu takes thought
- Electricity costs sky rocketing
- Creating an interesting, nutritious and edible menu monthly
- Mac & Cheese, hot dogs, burgers, chicken nuggets, and french fries are repetitious and children get this at home
- Children may get three components of the food pyramid but are usually missing vegetables
- One menu is difficult to plan and prepare, none the less there are 4-cycle menus that change annually
- Many schools don't know how much it costs to cook per child
- Prices are going up; for example fuel, corn, dairy, plastic
- Menu evaluated by parents and directors are fielding opinions often
- Busy teachers most likely don't work a nutrition unit into their weekly curriculum

This is the reality of Quality Catering Hot Lunch

- There is virtually no need to have an experienced chef measure our food each day plus there is virtually no prep time
- Order from our updated monthly wholesale items through QCCK as a convenience. Shipped within two days with no delivery charge
- QC has three million dollars worth liability insurance for your protection (no claim has been filed in over 30 years of business)
- Other than cutting fruit/bread for preschoolers you just unwrap and measure food per student
- No oven necessary! Hot boxes hold food at temperature for up to six hours. USDA and HAACP safety standards
- Our experienced Dietician and Kitchen Manager evaluate all menu items by removing much of trans fat and sodium
- QC food is home style meals that children eat and love!
- QCCK gives a protein, a grain, two vegetables, a fruit and a starch every day
- QC offers a variety of nutritional, substitution of back lunch daily for parents and their children
- QC provides pricing per child (many parents are surprised at the low cost/child)
- QC provides competitive pricing per child and holds pricing for 1 year
- Added value from a reliable caterer increases enrollment
- Quarterly Lesson Plans are prepared from an experienced educator at no additional charge
